MEMBER OF FRENCH HIGH COMMISSION SPEAKS HERE.

Lieut. de Wierzbicki, of the French high commission, responded to an invitation to come over from New York to address the educators of Washington on "France" at an auditorium meeting at the Central High School at 4 p. m. Thursday. As the night before at the University Club, when his excellency the French Ambassador was asked to speak, he said: "I'll ditto all that has been said," so the hearers on Thursday knew that they were listening to one who speaks with authority.

Lieut. de Wierzbicki was known before the war as a lecturer in French upon history, literature and the fine arts. He was appointed during the war because of his being an accomplished linguist, interpreter to the British officers in France. Later in the war he was appointed lecturer in English to the French high commission, and for his brilliant service in this work received his decoration. He has spoken in all the States but one hundreds of times to large audiences.

Miss Helen E. Stout, director for the District of Columbia of the Children of the American Revolution, is the guest of the national officers of the C. A. R. and prominent national officers of the Daughters of the American Revolution at her old home in New York City. Miss Stout will be absent three weeks.

Rent Your Mansion For Picture Making, New Society Slogan

Through an arrangement with Miss Anne Morgan, head of the American Committee for Devastated France, all locations for Paramount pictures made in the East, which involve scenes nearby New York, will be obtained through a special committee of New York society women, and the funds used for such purposes by the company will be given to charity.

Miss Morgan's committee will hereafter work with Arthur Cosgrove, of the location department at the Paramount Eastern studios, in choosing sites for exteriors. The homes, estates and yachts of wealthy New Yorkers will be at the disposal of the company, and the money that would normally be paid to the owners for the use of the property will be given to worthy causes.
